STEP 2:

Transfer Direct Deposits & Automatic Payments

Don't forget to move over Direct Deposits and Automatic Payments. We recommend reviewing the past few months of statements to make sure that you move over all electronic transactions.

This guide includes a checklist of the common electronic transactions to help you make the switch.

If you are using Bill Pay through your other institution, print a list of your current payees to help you transfer that information.

Direct Deposits:

Transfer direct deposits from your employer, retirement plan, interest payments or other source of income, such as Social Security.

We've provided some forms to assist with moving your direct deposits received from various sources:

* Payroll Direct Deposit – Check with your employer to be certain no additional information or specific form is necessary to complete the account change for your payroll direct deposit. (If you currently don't have direct deposit through your employer, please contact your company's Human Resources Department to see if this benefit is offered to employees.)

* Form SF1199A, U.S. Government Direct Deposit (available online or at any Banking Center) – Use this form to redirect your Social Security, military pay, VA compensation/pension, railroad retirement, etc. to your new account.

You can also use this form to set up one of these government agency payments for the first time.

* Direct Deposit Authorization Form from Other Sources – Use this form for other direct deposits you receive including investments, pension/retirement plans, interest or dividend payments, etc.

Here's a quick checklist of some common direct deposit sources to help you remember to inform the sender about your new account.

There may be several ways to notify your Payees that you have a new account.

* Most of your Payees have a form included with the monthly statement for you to enter your new account information.

* Many Payees provide a customer service number and allow you to provide your new account information by telephone.

* Many local utilities and vendors have Web sites available for you to enter your new bank account information.

* In case you need it, we've provided a form that you can send to your Payees to notify them that you have changed banks, the Automatic Payment Authorization Form.
